SECTION I. BACKGROUND, OVERVIEW, AND GOALS

A. Background

The City of Greeley prioritizes robust long-term planning of its raw water system to ensure meeting the City's future water needs. The Greeley Water & Sewer Department (Department) supports this effort by utilizing a model that simulates Greeley's complex water system, operating various supply sources to meet potable and non-potable demands. The Department uses the Decision Support System MODSIM, a network flow model developed at Colorado State University, to run analyses. The MODSIM model works in conjunction with basin wide models for the Big Thompson and Cache la Poudre Rivers to appropriately simulate Greeley's water systems. Collectively, it is referred to as the Greeley System Model (GSM). The Poudre Basin Network (PBN) is a MODSIM network that simulates the water supply system and operations of the Cache la Poudre River, it integrates the operation of the Colorado-Big Thompson (CBT) project, utilizing a CBT projection tool to provide projected quota data. The PBN quantifies yield for agricultural and municipal entities, and estimates streamflow. The PBN output is refined in the Post-Processor (PPP) and fed into the GSM. The Big Thompson Basin Network (BTBN) is a MODSIM network that is used to quantify the yield of Greeley's water rights in the Big Thompson River Basin. The GSM is used to test various operations and acquisition strategies to determine the yield of Greeley's water system during a synthetic severe drought scenario. The model functions with the objectives to maximize firm yield, minimize losses, and maximize reusable effluent.

The Department has determined that the model must be updated. Currently, the GSM is housed within MODSIM version 7.2.15, released in 2002. It lacks current approaches to data import, editing and model manipulation. The most current version of MODSIM, version 8.5.1 released in August, 2018, has modernized system constructs, database handling, data entry and water rights management. In alignment with the Greeley City Council priorities to acquire water, implement a larger non-potable water system and secure long-term water storage, it is crucial for the Department to maintain robust and high quality raw water planning and modeling capabilities.

The City desires to complete this project and have an updated model fully operational by December 2020, with a data management system and graphic user interface finished in February 2021.

B. Overview

The City of Greeley, CO is soliciting proposals from qualified water allocation modeling experts (Consultant(s)) whose efforts can offer robust solutions to the upgrade of the City's water allocation model and Data Management System (DMS). The updated modeling platform and DMS should facilitate the City's ability to plan as future water needs evolve.

C. Goals

The City's key goals for the model update all support the systems objectives to maximize firm yield, minimize loss and maximize generation of reusable effluent.

1. Modernize approaches to water allocation modeling to better support Department staff and planning efforts.
2. Facilitate the reproducibility of model scenarios of past model outputs.
3. Create a DMS for data input and output that allows for less manual manipulation of data and quicker data comparisons.
4. Allow for scalability and transparency of scenario analysis.

SECTION II. STATEMENT OF WORK

A. Scope of Services

The following tasks outline an expected scope of work to upgrade Greeley's water allocation model and data management system. In general, the Consultant shall develop the most cost-effective, defensible, and feasible effort towards model upgrade, DMS and data processing tools. The Consultant's services required for this work will include, but are not limited to the tasks listed below. The Consultant shall in their price proposal expand and elaborate in sufficient detail and define other tasks necessary to adequately address all issues and assumptions involved in the completion of this project.

All pertinent information associated with the current Greeley System Model (GSM) and processing tools will be provided to assist the Consultant in the execution of project work. The files include, but are not limited to the following list. The Consultant shall identify additional data needs in their proposal.

- Greeley's current MODSIM-DDS executable
- Big Thompson Network
- Poudre Basin Network
- Colorado-Big Thompson projection tool
- Greeley's Poudre Basin Model input processor
- Data Extractor
- Greeley's Output Processor
- Time Series Arrays
- Associated Model Command Line Code
- System Documentation files

TASK SERIES 1 – MODEL CONVERSION and POST PROCESSING

Task 1.1- Model upgrade: Physical model

The Consultant will convert the current GSM from MODSIM version 7.2 to version 8.5 working closely with City of Greeley (COG) staff. Current GSM performance must be translated from the existing model into the new version. The translated model should reflect current model inputs including inflows, reservoir targets, demands and evaporation. Network elements such as sink nodes, reservoir nodes or operational constructs may need to be highly modified to follow MODSIM 8.5 best practices, but should accurately represent current GSM operations. Current model capabilities must remain intact. Performance must be verified and accepted by COG staff.

Task 1.2 Model upgrade: Custom code

The consultant will update the existing visual basic customized code to ensure translation of model capabilities from version 7.2 to version 8.5. Currently, command line code is used to allocate reservoir space, target level rule curves, shrink calculations, lawn irrigation return flows and exchange potential. Custom code that can be handled within the upgraded model interface should be eliminated to avoid duplication of processes. The final code should have extensive code documentation.

Task 1.3- Post Processing

The Consultant will assist COG staff with the production of an updated output processing tool. Currently, the post processing tools organize, query, and interpret model output by importing data into an Excel workbook. Primary performance metrics are demands and shortages, reservoir levels, water right yields, operational priority, and spilt supply. The updated post processing tool can follow the skeleton using database and data visualization software. The goal of this effort is for easy model output comparison with little time expenditure. This will assist both the Consultant and COG staff with model verification and streamlining. The post processor should be revisited during task series 3 to finalize output comparisons and verify appropriate functionality.

Task 1.4- Model upgrade: Verification

The Consultant will conduct QA/QC to support the COG staff in model performance verification. The Post Processing output effort should be utilized to select key performance metrics and conduct comparisons between the old version 7.2 model output and the new version 8.5 model output. Other verification metrics should be explored including percent change along differing time steps for key model attributes. This effort should result in the statistical support of verified model functionality.

Deliverables:

GSM System Model (Version 8.5) MODSIM file: Working version of the GSM system file with performance verified and accepted by Department staff

TASK 2 - Streamlining & Model Construct update

The Consultant will assist the Department's staff to update current system constructs, utilizing the MODSIM version 8.5 capabilities to modernize model operations. The City will lead this effort and will utilize the Consultant to transfer knowledge on best practices and innovative methodology. The Consultant will provide extensive assistance with integration of modern operation integration into the new model interface. This includes but is not limited to updating exchange potential, Lawn Irrigation Return Flow calculations, wholly consumable effluent, and the reorganization of reservoir constructs.

Deliverables:

GSM System Model MODSIM file: Modernized MODSIM file with updated system constructs.

Technical Memorandum: TM documenting the updated working GSM, verification, customized code and updated model constructs (Task 1&2).

TASK SERIES 3- Inputs Manager, Data Management System (DMS), Graphic User Interface (GUI)

Task 3.1- Dynamic interface with Poudre Basin Network Model and input processor

A dynamic connection between alternative hydrologic datasets, the Poudre Basin Network (PBN) model, the Big Thompson Basin Network (BTBN) and the GSM is vital to evaluate water yield under potential future conditions. The PBN model works in hand with the Fort Collins System, Tri-Districts System, North Poudre Irrigation Co. System and the Greeley System Model to produce final river conditions. Currently, an Excel-based input processor is used to calculate monthly river entitlements from the PBN and BTBN. The Consultant shall develop a process to streamline the connection between the PBN model, the Post-PBN Processor (PPP) and the BTBN. This process will include the generation of MODSIM ADA files and potentially a graphic user interface to select choices like ownership levels of ditch companies. The goal of this process is to assist in the automation of the flow of data while introducing less human error and facilitating the ability to process multiple hydrologic datasets.

Task 3.2- Data Management System (DMS)

A DMS should be created to connect databases with model runs. Select outputs should be saved and appended to a larger SQL database that can easily be queried and reviewed. The result should allow quick comparison in pivotal model runs and ease reproducibility. To achieve this database structure should reflect pivotal model settings including, but not limited to; PBN inputs, ownership inputs, basic model structure and customized code.

Task 3.3- Graphic User Interface (GUI)

In pairing with the DMS, a GUI should be created to streamline the process of running model scenarios. The GUI will act to manage scenario development and facilitate easy reproducibility in the modeling environment. To do this, the GUI should ease the ability to run typical scenario changes, automating key model features. Such features could include but are not limited to scenario management, iterative analyses, and typical input selection modifications. At completion of the GUI, verification of correct functionality must be displayed.

Task 3.4- Post Processing

The Consultant should revisit the initial effort towards the post processor (Task 1.3) in order to refine the operations using the new DMS. The post processor functionality within the new DMS and GUI system must be verified and kept up to date until the DMS process is finalized.

Task 3.5- Integration with Greeley's Server

The Consultant will work with the City's IT ~~Technology Services~~ department to ensure the DMS will be supported by the current data center operations of the City. The City wishes that the Model and DMS be accessible through remote access.

Deliverables:

Data Management System Files: Consultant must provide all electronic files associated with the DMS including but not limited to source code, executables, and supporting documents.

User Manual: A manual that details the use of the DMS and GUI to assist in trouble shooting and onboarding new Department staff members.

Technical Memorandum: TM documenting the steps of use and integration of the DMS.

TASK 4- Documentation

The Consultant will prepare a series of Technical Memorandum to document the upgrade of the Model and creation of the DMS and GUI that will track the functionality and assumptions. The Technical Memoranda shall be compiled into a single project report upon completion of the project. The project report should include an executive summary and a table of contents outlining the compiled documents. In addition, the Consultant shall append the user manual that details the DMS and GUI to the final report.

Deliverables:

Final report: The final report should include an executive summary, table of contents, all technical memorandums and the user manual.

TASK 5 - Project Management

The Consultant is responsible for tracking project budget and schedule on a monthly basis. The Consultant must prepare monthly invoices and submit in a timely manner for review by the City. At any time the Contractor may be asked to provide a status report if requested. In addition, biweekly meetings should be held between the Department and consultant.

B. Period of Award

The completion date of providing the required product and services shall be early 2021.

If the City desires to extend the contract, no later than thirty (30) days prior to expiration, the City's Purchasing Contact may send a notice in writing to the vendor requesting firm pricing for the next twelve-month period. After the City evaluates the firm pricing proposal from the vendor, it will determine whether to extend the contract. All awards and extensions are subject to annual appropriation of funds. The provisions of the foregoing paragraphs with respect to extensions of the terms of the contract shall be null and void if the contract has been terminated or revoked during the initial term or any extension thereof.
