

Slide 1

Slide 2

At each Council Meeting, we recognize the people, organizations and businesses that make Greeley Great. Tonight it's my turn to announce the recognitions. I'll start with a quote, "If you belittle what you have, it becomes less. If you appreciate what you have, it becomes more." With these announcements we are appreciating the good work of our residents, showing support for their efforts, and encouraging everyone to share the word that Greeley is Great.

Slide 3

UNC School of Nursing Director Faye Hummel is one of 17 distinguished nursing educators in the United States selected for induction into the 2016 class of fellows of the National League for Nursing's prestigious Academy of Nursing Education. Candidates were evaluated on their contributions to innovative teaching and learning strategies; academic leadership; collaborative partnerships; and more.

Slide 4

UNC is one of three schools selected by the State of Colorado to start a first-time ever higher education program for students with intellectual disabilities. Students enrolled in the program will live in residence halls and work on campus while taking up to two classes each semester. In addition, they'll complete seminars on transitioning to college, budgeting and developing work skills.

Slide 5

In November, UNC Art Professor Sieger Hartgers (see-grr heart-grrs) received the Colorado Higher Education Art Educator of the Year award from the Colorado Art Education Association. Prior to teaching at UNC, Professor Hartgers was with the US military for 24 years including much of that time as a combat artist.

Slide 6

Aims Community College's Automotive program has been selected to receive a $1,000 "Ultimate Collision Education Makeover" grant from the Collision Repair Education Foundation. The grant rewards schools for doing an outstanding job educating students who are focused on careers in collision repair technology.

Slide 7

