Old Business- None

Guest Presentation

1. Karen Scopel from the City of Greeley Culture, Parks and Recreation Department submitted a presentation from the Natural Areas Division on “Get Outdoors Greeley” a draft of a five year strategic plan covering one thousand acres and twenty six natural areas for the City of Greeley. Approval for this plan is planned to be in February of 2021 and will involve several art pieces that are in the natural areas.

New Business

1. Sub-committee Review –
 - a. There are currently three sub-committee projects going into place in 2021. These include Broadview Acres Trail, 12th St. Outfall Water Pond and the Paint the Town committee. Caitlin Alexander volunteered to join the Broadview and Paint the Town committees. Robb Casseday joined the Broadview, Glenmere Park and 12th St. Outfall committees, and volunteered to chair the 12th St. Outlook committee. Sandy Magnuson was assigned to the Broadview committee. Lastly Danyelle Butler joined the Paint the Town committee.
2. Plumb Farm Tree Carving
 - a. Ed Rogers submitted information regarding the previous vote to decommission the tree carving at Plumb Farm and the recommendations by staff and the committee due to the carvings deterioration. After a discussion on other options Thomas Devore motioned for the second and final vote on decommission which was seconded by Robb Casseday. Ed called for a vote which was passed unanimously.

3. December Meeting Discussion

- a. After a discussion on the lack of voting items for the December meeting, the committee reached a consensus to not hold a December committee meeting, and will reconvene in January.
