My GREELEY
of my brain takes over.*

Greeley may be humble at heart, but our arts scene is anything but reserved. This is a city of artistic vibrancy and optimism, where every street is a public art space, and artists of every medium can make their voices heard. Our Creative District houses all worlds of galleries, sculptures and street art, while venues like the Union Colony Civic Center and Moxi Theater host diverse performances, from traditional dance troupes and orchestras to acid jazz outfits and heavy metal mariachi bands. Greeley's creative spaces, like the Clay Center of Northern Colorado and Wonderhand Studios, allow individuals to discover they can thrive as a working artist. No matter your artistic sensibility, you'll find a new lens for viewing the world here.
