

They told us to “Live someplace else.”

We found an apartment we loved in a great neighborhood.

But the landlord told us to live someplace else that would be better suited to “our needs”.

Colorado Housing Practices Law (CRS 24-34-501-510) and the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) prohibit discrimination in housing (all real property, including commercial property and vacant land, with some exclusions) if based on any of the following:

- Race
- Sexual Orientation
- Religion
- Creed
- Gender Identity
- National Origin
- Color
- Marital Status
- Ancestry
- Familial Status
- Disability

Fair Housing Is Your Right.

If you feel you have been discriminated against, visit www.hud.gov/fairhousing or call the HUD Hotline – 1-800-669-9777 (English/Española); 1-800-927-9275 (TTY).
